

THE GOVERNMENT MACHINERY AND THOSE WHO OPERATE IT

Treasury Officials Appear Before House Committee on Appropriations—Mr. Sargent Makes Report on Point Loma School—Book on Trust Debates Prepared by Attorney General Knox.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Assistant Secretary Allen, Chief Clerk Hill, W. B. Ridgely, Comptroller of the Currency; Commissioner Yerkes, of the internal revenue; S. W. Stratton, Director of Bureau of Standards, and the Treasurer of the United States appeared before the House Committee on Appropriations yesterday. They explained the items in the estimates submitted to Congress for the next fiscal year affecting the salaries of the employees and additions to the staff of employees.

A decrease of $410,440 was made in the public debt during the month of November. The debt is as follows: Interest bearing debt, $914,541,240; debt on which interest has ceased, $1,255,810; debt bearing no interest, $396,875,819; total, $1,567,226,869.

E. L. Kimmel, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has been detailed for work at the White House during the winter season.

Commissioner General Sargent especially recommends the $3 head tax on immigrants, which is included in the immigration bill now before the Senate. There is now a fifty-cent head tax, but he argues that the additional sum is necessary to pay the expenses of the Immigration Bureau, which are very heavy on account of the large force necessary to guard the Canadian and Mexican borders.

Mr. Sargent asserts that people living in San Juan, Cal., are favorably disposed toward Mrs. Katherine Tingley, the woman who is trying to gain admission for eleven Cuban children detained at Ellis Island so that they may attend her school. He has made his report in the matter to Secretary Shaw which is a statement of the facts and makes no recommendation. Secretary Shaw will probably make a decision in the matter next Saturday.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

"Bills and Debates in Congress" is the title of a book just published by the Department of Justice. It was prepared under the direction of Attorney General Knox, and contains a full account of all the trust bills and debates in Congress from the Fifth Congress to the second session of the Fifty-seventh Congress.

Delegations from all parts of the country have besieged the Attorney General the last two days, seeking civil appointments, either for themselves or their friends.

A list of all the decisions in cases tried under the Sherman anti-trust law is being prepared by the direction of Attorney General Knox.

President Roosevelt has denied the application for pardon of J. M. McKnight. McKnight was convicted for two offenses—the embezzlement of $3,735 from the German National Bank, Louisville, Ky., and the bribery of two city aldermen with $2,000 of this money. He is sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

Imports of manufactures of iron and steel are larger this year than at any time during the past decade. The import figures of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics show that the imports of iron and steel manufactures in the ten months ending with October, 1902, are double those of last year, and three times as much as those of 1898, and are larger than in any year since 1881.

The total value of iron and steel manufactures imported in the ten months ending with October, 1902, is $31,987,056 against $16,349,427 in the same months of last year, and $10,531,090 in the corresponding months of 1898. In practically every class of articles the figures of the year just ended are larger, both in quantity and value, than those of last year, and in many cases the figures are more than double those of last year. Pig iron has increased from 39,236 tons in ten months of 1901 to 46,610 tons in ten months of 1902; bar iron has increased from 32,233,515 pounds in ten months of 1901 to 51,586,822 pounds in ten months of 1902; ingots, blooms, billets, etc., have increased from 14,791,617 pounds in ten months of last year to 497,304,854 pounds in ten months of the present year.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

A report of the test of crude oil for heating purposes recently made in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was sent to the Treasury Department today. In the eight-hour test made November 25 it was proved that one pound of oil will evaporate 13.8 pounds of water as against 11 pounds of water evaporated by one pound of coal. But it cost $10.40 to furnish the same amount of steam as is furnished by coal costing $7.76.

These figures represent oil at $1 per barrel, and coal at $4 per ton. The coal is at present higher than usual, the contract price being sometimes as low as $3.06.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT.

D. P. Leibhardt, superintendent of the dead letter office, has published a list of articles received in the dead letter office which are to be sold by auction. The sale will commence on December 15, and will be continued until all the articles are sold. There are 2,355 lots of miscellaneous articles, 562 books, and 165 articles of jewelry in the list.

A new case containing some interesting articles found in the dead letter office has been added to the museum in the Postoffice. One of the articles is a pipe made of maple sugar. A mammoth woolen sock that might have been worn by one of Gulliver's Brobdignagians is another. Revolvers and knives of various description, which are contraband goods, helped fill the case.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

"The international exposition of live stock at Chicago is the finest exposition of progressive breeding and feeding I have ever seen," said Secretary Wilson upon his return to Washington. Mr. Wilson was particularly interested in the fact that students from eleven agricultural colleges were there studying the stock. It is his opinion that this country has as fine live stock now as any in the world. This is due to the fact that the importations have been immensely improved. The exposition was the third one of its kind ever held.

Agricultural exports of the United States for the last fiscal year had a value of about $860,000,000. This was a decline from the record breaking figures of the preceding year, due principally to a shortage in the corn crop and in the shipment of cotton.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Rear Admiral Endicott, chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, has officially called the attention of Secretary Moody to the importance of an organization of the corps of naval civil engineers upon a somewhat different basis than that now existing. The present authorized strength of this corps is twenty-seven. All these belong to the one and only grade of full civil engineer. Admiral Endicott says there should be added to the corps the grade of assistant civil engineer, in order that young men may be appointed to the lower grade first and be promoted to the grade of full civil engineer, as vacancies occur in the latter, after some years of experience and after a further examination to test their fitness for such promotion. He recommends that the number of assistant civil engineers be not fixed by law, but be variable, at the discretion of the President, to suit the requirements of the service.

Much embarrassment has been experienced recently by the Bureau of Yards and Docks because of the lack of a sufficient force of draftsmen. It has been impossible for the bureau to secure the services of a sufficient number of proper qualifications, and much delay occurs in the preparation of plans and specifications of new works, which, officials of the bureau say, is further aggravated by the long time consumed in the necessary printing.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

The War College has been temporarily located at the former temporary White House on Jackson Place. The building is being prepared for the reception of the officers who will be located there this winter. Maj. Gen. S. B. M. Young and Brig. Gen. W. C. Carter, members of the War College Board, have already moved into the house.

One of the first matters to be taken up for consideration by the War College will be the question of giving young officers a perfect knowledge of the French, German, and Spanish languages. It is considered essential that officers of the army have a speaking knowledge of all these languages.

An examination will be held at several places in the United States on January 5 of appointees from civil life desirous of obtaining commissions in the regular army.

TRIAL OF CHARLES THOM SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

Charged With Having Killed His Wife Last May.

Charles Thom will be called to trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ida Thom, at their home, 321 Missouri Avenue, on May 5 last, on Monday next. The case was set for trial before Justice Anderson in Criminal Court No. 1, on Monday last and was postponed on account of other legal engagements of Messrs. Henry E. Davis and Joseph Shilling, counsel for the accused. According to the reports of the affair at the time it occurred, the killing of Mrs. Thom was the result of an insane jealousy on the part of her husband.

The couple were married in Baltimore about six months before the tragedy. Thom was employed as a watchman at a local bakery.

It is said that for some time before the night on which Mrs. Thom was killed her husband often remonstrated with her on account of her conduct. On Saturday night, May 4, he left his place of employment and went to his home, arriving there about 12:30 Sunday morning. He went immediately to his wife's room and a quarrel is said to have ensued. Thom became so enraged, it is said, that he tore into bits a new hat which he had only the day before purchased for his wife. Mrs. Thom left the room, which was on the third floor, and started down the stairway. Her husband followed her. When he emerged from his room, it is said, his wife had reached the landing on the second floor, and he is said to have pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired at her. She screamed "murder" and "help" and fell. Thom, it is said, continued to descend the stairway and kept firing as he went. After his arrest he stated that it was not until he reached the landing on the second floor that he realized that he was shooting at his wife and stopped.

He also stated, it is said, that he did not know why he put his pistol in his pocket when he left the bakery. He did so, and that is all he knew about the matter. Later in the night Thom is reported as saying: "I killed her and am not sorry for it—she was unfaithful to me."

AN EFFORT TO PROVIDE JUDGE FOR PROBATE WORK

Movement on Foot to Increase Local Judicial Force.

Now that the vacancy on the bench of the Supreme Court of the District has been filled, it is said that an effort will be made at the present session of Congress to have the membership of the court increased so as to provide for justice for the probate court.

The business of the probate branch of the Supreme Court of the District has always been considered by one of the justices of the court. Until about a year ago the probate business was a tedious to one of the justices daily at the recess hour.

The business of the office of the Register of Wills increased in volume, and it was found necessary to provide for daily morning session of the court consider probate matters. This was done about a year ago, and since that time a session for probate business has been held daily beginning at 10 a. m. This session of the probate court conducted by one of the six justices of the Supreme Court of the District, of necessity interferes with his judicial duty in some other branch of the court.
